

India - Holi Festival Signature

March 1, 2026 — March 7, 2026

Starting at: $3,100

OVERVIEW

The Need

India, with its rapidly growing population, presents both challenges and opportunities for the medical community. Despite having a well-trained healthcare workforce, the country continues to grapple with significant public health issues. Overcrowding, inadequate sanitation, and poverty exacerbate health disparities, particularly affecting the most vulnerable populations. In 2018, the country reported an infant mortality rate of 30%, and gender health disparities persist, leaving women at heightened risk for various health conditions.

International Medical Relief (IMR) invites you to join us in addressing these critical healthcare needs in the communities surrounding Jaipur. As a valued member of our team, you will have the opportunity to deliver high-quality medical care to those who need it most, working in clinics set against the backdrop of southern India's rich cultural heritage. This is more than just providing medical services—you will be engaging with complex cases in underserved areas, where your expertise can make a profound difference.

Your skills and knowledge will help bridge the gap for those who often fall outside the healthcare system, offering not only medical attention but also essential health education to empower these communities. The work you do will not only provide immediate relief but will also contribute to sustainable health improvements in areas where access to care is limited.

Take this opportunity to broaden your clinical experience, immerse yourself in a unique cultural setting, and make a tangible impact on global health. Join IMR and bring your expertise to a mission that truly matters. Together, we can transform lives and elevate health outcomes for those in greatest need.

Our Work

Since 2011, International Medical Relief (IMR) has been committed to addressing critical health needs in India, focusing on sustainable healthcare solutions that empower communities for the long term. Our initiatives extend beyond immediate medical care to include vital education on clean water, dehydration management, malnutrition, family planning, oral health, respiratory diseases, malaria prevention, and hygiene practices. By partnering with local health officials, we are not only providing direct care but also building lasting relationships and strengthening the local healthcare infrastructure.

Our missions are strategically designed to align with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UNSDG), specifically Goal 3: Good Health & Wellbeing and Goal 17: Partnerships for the Goals. Through meticulous planning and collaboration, we ensure that each mission has measurable outcomes that contribute to these global objectives.

IMR's approach emphasizes capacity building and sustainable impact. By working side-by-side with local healthcare professionals, we help increase workforce density and cultivate a network of future healthcare leaders committed to improving public health outcomes. Our collaborative model supports the development of a robust local healthcare system, empowering communities to continue advancing their health and wellbeing long after our team departs.

Aligned with UNSDG 17, IMR only enters a country through formal invitations and partnerships, ensuring that our efforts are guided by local expertise and address the most pressing community needs. This respectful and coordinated approach allows us to provide essential medical and dental care, along with health education, in areas where these services are desperately needed.

Join IMR in this impactful work, and contribute your expertise to a mission that not only changes lives but also builds the foundation for a healthier, more equitable future in India and beyond. Together, we can make a meaningful difference in global health.

This Mission

Imagine standing in a place where the majesty of snow-capped mountains meets the lush vibrancy of green landscapes. To your left, you see the awe-inspiring peaks, and to your right, a tapestry of rich foliage. Close your eyes and you can almost hear the lively rhythms of Hindustani music filling the air, while the flavors of freshly caught fish tantalize your senses. Welcome to India—an extraordinary country that captivates with its breathtaking beauty, diverse landscapes, and vibrant cultural experiences.

As the seventh-largest and second-most populous country in the world, India is a land of stunning contrasts and endless exploration. From the towering Himalayan mountains to the sprawling deserts, from serene coastal plains to the vibrant cities teeming with life, every corner of India tells a unique story. It is truly a place of “Unity in Diversity,” where countless languages, religions, and traditions converge in a harmonious tapestry that is as complex as it is inspiring.

This trip takes you to Jaipur, the enchanting capital of Rajasthan, known as the “Pink City” for its beautifully colored buildings. Founded in 1727 by the visionary king Sawai Jai Singh II, Jaipur is one of India’s earliest planned cities, offering a blend of historic charm and modern vibrancy. Walking through its bustling streets, you’ll be surrounded by stunning architecture, vibrant markets, and the welcoming smiles of its people. As you explore, you’ll discover a city rich in history, from its magnificent palaces to its vibrant artisan communities.

Yet, amidst this cultural richness, many residents face significant challenges accessing healthcare. During our time here, IMR will provide essential medical care and health education to those who need it most, particularly in underserved communities where the out-of-pocket costs of even subsidized healthcare are prohibitive. Your expertise and compassion can make a profound impact in these neighborhoods, where overcrowding and limited resources have strained the local healthcare system.

Jaipur’s diverse population is predominantly made up of merchants and artisans, and its unique cultural fabric is woven from centuries-old traditions and crafts. However, rapid population growth has led to a housing shortage, and many people live in converted commercial spaces, further complicating their access to essential services.

Join us on this incredible journey as we bring much-needed support to the vibrant and resilient people of Jaipur. This is more than a trip—it’s an opportunity to immerse yourself in the beauty and complexity of India while making a meaningful difference in the lives of those who call this remarkable place home. Come ready to be inspired, and leave forever changed.

Your time in Jaipur will be especially memorable because it will coincide with Holi, a time for Hindus to welcome the spring season and to celebrate love and the triumph of good over evil. Also referred to as the festival of colors, Holi is one of the most brilliant festivals that Hindus celebrate. From rain dances to water guns filled with liquid color to Holi-special restaurant menus, the Holi festivities are a blast! For a colorful and memorable keepsake, wear a white t-shirt during the celebration. During Holi, keep in mind that the people whom you have the opportunity to laugh and dance with may also be some of the people you help during clinic. Because many residents cannot afford the out-of-pocket expenses associated with subsidized healthcare, IMR will help to bring much-needed aid and education to the people in India who have more difficulty accessing medical treatment.

Lodging/Transportation

Experience Signature Style Comfort in Jaipur. For those seeking a premium experience, our Signature Trip offers 4+ star Western accommodations that combine luxury and convenience with the rich cultural ambiance of Jaipur. Arrivals & Orientation

After a long journey, you will land at Jaipur International Airport and transfer to your hotel to check in. Please plan to arrive no later than 2pm. You'll meet up with the rest of the team and join them for a delicious vegetarian dinner and orientation. During orientation, your team leader will assign roles for clinic, explain IMR's clinic protocols, and discuss the communities you will be serving in India.

Monday, March 2, 2026

Holi Festival

Today is reserved for you to participate in the Holi Festival, a celebration of spring and the victory of good over evil. This traditional celebration is also known as "the festival of colors" and is celebrated by millions of Hindus who douse themselves in brightly colored powder. Today, you will find yourself drenched in vibrant colors and surrounded by lively crowds of people who are eager to share their traditions and to throw a color-filled balloon your way. In the afternoon, you will enjoy Holi delicacies, including Papri chaat and coconut milk, while you dance and sing through the lively streets. In the evening, you will meet your team back at the hotel for dinner.

Tuesday, March 3, 2026

Training Day

You and your team will provide training for local healthcare providers to continue IMR's long-term, sustainable education efforts. Education is as important as medical and dental care for our patients. Each clinic includes basic health education according to the specialties and skills of the IMR volunteers, as well as the needs of the local people. When communities become empowered to take health and wellness issues into their own hands, they become self-sufficient. IMR provides learning opportunities for the local communities through classes and hands-on learning to sustain their well-being beyond our visit. After training is an optional tour of the City Palace and SMS II Museum. Situated in the heart of the old city, it occupies about one-seventh of the landscape. The palace is a blend of Rajput and Mughal architecture and houses a seven-storied Chandra Mahal in the center, which affords a beautiful view of the gardens and the city. Featured in the palace and museum are Diwan-E-Am, Diwan-E-Khas, Mubarak Mahal, and Sileh Khana. Diwan-E-Am, also referred to as the Hall of Public Audience, has intricate decorations and a collection of manuscripts. In contrast, Diwan-E-Khas, or the Hall of Private Audience, has a marble-paved gallery. Mubarak Mahal has a rich collection of costumes and textiles, and Sileh Khana has a collection of armory and weapons.

Clinic

While in Jaipur, you can expect a high volume of patients so your days will be long and hard, but also incredibly rewarding. To help ensure seamless communication with our patients, your team will have assigned translators who will communicate your directions and recommendations to your patients for you. After a hearty, vegetarian breakfast at your accommodation, you and your team will transport to your clinic site. In the afternoon, you will have the optional opportunity to visit the Hawa Mahal, also known as “The Wind Palace.” The Hawa Mahal was built in 1799 by Maharaja Sawai Pratap and is the most recognizable monument in Jaipur. Featuring Rajput architecture, the five-storied, semi-octagonal monument has 152 windows with over-hanging, latticed balconies. The palace also houses a new museum that displays “Jaipur Past & Present.”

Clinic

After clinic, you and your team will have the option to enjoy a tour of Jalmahal and Amber Palace. The Jalmahal, also known as the Water Palace, is en route to Amer and is set in the middle of Man Sagar Lake. The site features a beautiful, paved causeway that leads up to the palace. Next up is a visit to Amber Palace, the old capital of the Kachhwahas. Situated atop a range of steep hills, the grandeur of the fort is a remarkable sight with its surrounding battlements and palaces and fantastic blend of Hindu and Muslim architecture. The solemn dignity of its red sandstone and white marble pavilions, when reflected in the lake at the foothill, is a magnificent sight to behold. Raja Man Singh built the original palace with the additional extensions built by Maharaja Mirja Raja Jai Singh and Sawai Jai Singh II, the last Maharaja of Amer, who later grew a new city called Jaipur which became the capital in 1727.

Clinic

After your final day of clinic, you will have the option to venture to the Galta Ji Temple, an ancient pilgrimage center in Jaipur. Set amidst low hills and packed with locals and tourists alike, the attractive spot has temples, pavilions, and holy kunds (natural springs and water tanks). Visitors to Galtaji will come across the complex Ramgopalji temple, locally called the Monkey temple (Galwar Bagh). It gets this moniker because of a large group of resident monkeys. The green landscape and chattering monkeys add to the delight of the area. On top of the hill is a small temple dedicated to the sun god, Surya Mandir. Constructed by Diwan Kriparam, this spectacular temple can be seen from anywhere in the city.

EXTENSIONS

You're journeying across the globe. Why not extend your stay in India to experience some of its top tourist attractions? Join us on an exclusive trip extension and visit some of the area's highlights.

Highlights:

Itinerary:

Day 1: New Delhi

Welcome to New Delhi! During your stay in this lively city, you will enjoy some of the area's top spots such as:

Humayun's Tomb (First Garden Tomb)

A UNESCO World Heritage site. The tomb was built in 1565 by Hamida Banu Begum and is one of the most beautiful Mughal monuments, with a 42.5-meters high double dome with marble and pillared kiosks. The complex encompasses the main tomb of the Emperor Humayun and the graves of his wife, Hamida Begum, and numerous other subsequent Mughals.

Lotus Temple (Unified House of Worship)

Known as the Lotus Temple due to its flowerlike shape, it was designed by Iranian architect Fariborz Sahba. It serves as the Mother Temple of the Indian Subcontinent and emphasizes the spirit of the House of Worship in that it is a gathering place where people of all religions may worship. The lotus represents the Manifestation of God and is also a symbol of purity and tenderness. Its significance is deeply rooted in the minds and hearts of the Indians.

India Gate (War Memorial)

Built in 1931 and designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens, this 42-meter-high stone arch of victory stands at the eastern end of Rajpath. It lists the names of the 90,000 Indian soldiers who died in the First World War.

Rashtrapati Bhavan (President's House)

Rashtrapati Bhavan was the erstwhile residence of the British Viceroy. Its architect was Edwin Landseer Lutyens. The decision to build a residence in New Delhi for the British Viceroy was taken after it was decided in the Delhi Durbar of 1911 that the capital of India would be shifted from Calcutta to Delhi in the same year. It was constructed to affirm the permanence of British rule in India. This building gave the impression, in the words of a critique, the setting of a perpetual Durbar.

Day 2: Agra | Taj Mahal

You will travel to Agra today for a tour of the magnificent, white marble mausoleum, the Taj Mahal.

Taj Mahal

This immense mausoleum is constructed of white marble and was built in the mid-1600s by order of the emperor Shah Jahan in memory of his favorite wife. Nothing compares with the experience of seeing the Taj for the first time. Commissioned by Shah Jahan for his favorite wife, Mumtaz, after her death in 1631, it was completed in 1653 and remains arguably the most moving testament to love in architectural history.

Red Fort of Agra

Near the gardens of the Taj Mahal stands the important 16th-century Mughal monument and UNESCO World Heritage Site known as the Red Fort of Agra. This powerful fortress of red sandstone encompasses, within its 2.5-km-long enclosure walls, the imperial city of the Mughal rulers. It comprises many fairy-tale palaces, such as the Jahangir Palace and the Khas Mahal, built by Shah Jahan; audience halls, such as the Diwan-i-Khas; and two very beautiful mosques.

Day 3: Old Delhi | Departure Home

Old Delhi is bursting with bazaars, which are good places to begin your exploration of the area. Before heading to the airport for your departure home, be sure to check out some of Old Delhi's staples:

Chandni Chowk

The markets seem to sell everything, though textiles, clothing, jewelry, and antiques comprise the bulk of the wares. The goings-on at Chandni Chowk, one of the oldest and most iconic markets, will spark the interest of even the most jaded traveler.

Jama Masjid (the mosque commanding a view of the world)

The Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan, builder of the Taj Mahal, commissioned its construction. Five thousand craftsmen labored for six years to build the mosque. Completed in the year 1656 C.E., Jama Masjid constitutes one of the largest and best-known mosques in India. Shah Jahan enhanced the imposing grandeur of the edifice by placing it on high ground.
