OVERVIEW

The Need

In Colombia, there are several basic health needs that can be effectively addressed during community medical missions. Access to primary healthcare remains a challenge in many underserved areas, leading to a range of treatable conditions. One prevalent issue is the need for basic healthcare screenings and preventive services as well as training and education on basic health needs. Women's health is of critical importance to reduce infant and maternal mortality rates. Additionally, infectious diseases, like parasitic infections and waterborne illnesses, are common in certain regions, requiring diagnostic and treatment interventions. Malnutrition and inadequate access to clean water also contribute to health problems, particularly among children. Chronic conditions, such as hypertension and diabetes, often go untreated due to limited healthcare resources.

IMR aims to identify these cases and provide patients with knowledge while bringing them into the medical system for regular care and follow-up. By providing medical check-ups, vaccinations, education on hygiene and nutrition, and access to essential medications, community medical missions play a crucial role in addressing these basic health needs and improving the overall well-being of Colombia's underserved populations.

Our Work

On this mission trip to Colombia, IMR will work with seasoned humanitarians and community leaders vested in the health and well-being of the community. With diligent planning and preparation, IMR is dedicated to ensuring that specific goals are met on our missions, each in correlation to the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals 3 and 17.

IMR works to elevate vulnerable populations through shoulder-to-shoulder care with our local partners, creating workforce density, and a cadre of future healthcare and public health leaders in association to UNSDG 3: Good Health & Wellbeing.

In correlation with UNSDG 17: Partnerships for the Goals, our organization works in collaboration and at the request of local hosts where we are under their direct influence and affluence. IMR never goes into a country without a formal invitation where there is a great community need for medical or dental care, and health education.

This Mission

Santa Marta, located on Colombia's Caribbean coast, is a city with a unique blend of healthcare needs and captivating cultural opportunities. The region faces healthcare challenges with disparities in access to medical services, particularly in impoverished communities. The city's infant mortality rate, although decreasing, remains a concern, and access to quality healthcare is a critical issue.

Lodging/Transportation

You will stay in 4+ star accommodations with the comforts of home. This hotel will offer private bathrooms, wifi, air conditioning, and more. The accommodations, fresh food, and amenities will allow you to recharge and get ready for the next day. Transportation to clinic is safe with reputable drivers and enough room for all.

Highlights

Santa Marta is a treasure trove of natural beauty and cultural richness. The Tayrona National Natural Park offers stunning beaches, dense forests, and diverse wildlife. Ciudad Perdida, an ancient archaeological site, is an intriguing historical attraction. Visitors can explore Santa Marta's rich cultural heritage, including indigenous communities, vibrant music, and delicious Caribbean cuisine. By volunteering here, you not only provide essential medical care but also have the chance to experience the warmth and resilience of the local community while exploring the natural wonders of the region.

Arrivals and Orientation

You and the team will fly into Simón Bolívar International Airport (SMR) in Santa Marta. Please arrive by 2pm. Upon arrival, your team will transport to your hotel where you can check in and freshen up. You will enjoy a hearty dinner and attend the team orientation to prepare you for the upcoming week of clinic. Your team leader will assign roles for clinic, address IMR's clinic protocols, and discuss the communities you will be serving in and around Santa Marta.

Monday, April 13, 2026

Clinic

After a hearty breakfast of local cuisine at your hotel, you will head to your first day of clinic! Patients of all ages will be lined up to greet you as the team arrives, excited to receive the medical care that is so difficult for many of them to attain.

Tuesday, April 14, 2026

Clinic

You will likely see many patients living with diabetes, hypertension, and heart disease. Not only can you offer treatment for acute symptoms, you will have the opportunity to provide patients with education on their conditions and the lifestyle changes that can help improve them.

Wednesday, April 15, 2026

Optional Training and Free Day

You and the team will have the opportunity to provide training for local healthcare providers to continue IMR's long-term, sustainable education efforts. Education is as important as medical and dental care for our patients. Each clinic includes basic health education according to the specialties and skills of the IMR volunteers, as well as the needs of the local people. When communities become empowered to take health and wellness issues into their own hands, they become self-sufficient. IMR provides learning opportunities for the local communities through classes and hands-on learning to sustain their well-being beyond our visit. You will also have free time to explore Santa Marta with its quaint historic streets and colorful architecture. There are so many things to do and see, it will be easy to get completely absorbed by the culture of this wonderful city.
